

This is the weekly update for customers of Connecticut Water's Hebron Center,
Mill at Stonecroft and Country Manor Water Systems
For the week of July 9, 2018

Outdoor Water Use

Overall, we continue to have good cooperation from customers on the outdoor watering ban. Thanks to your continued compliance with the water ban, system demands remained manageable over the past week.

Supply and Operations Activities

One small underground water main leak was detected and repaired in the former Mill at Stonecroft area of the water system.

Based on the aquifer assessment, we are moving forward with test well drilling and continue to evaluate other options for increasing available supply.

Customer Communications

Please call or e-mail us if you see anyone not adhering to the outdoor watering ban. We want to take the opportunity to educate them about the importance of complying with the ban. The source of the information will be kept confidential.
